The diagram illustrates the seating layout of the Pleasance Theatre. The stage is located on the right side, with a dressing room adjacent to it. The seating area is divided into two main sections: the front section (rows A to G) and the rear section (rows H to S). The front section (rows A to G) is closer to the stage, while the rear section (rows H to S) is further back. The seating is arranged in a semi-circular pattern, with the stage at the top. The diagram also shows the location of the lift, entrance, and exit. The stage is labeled 'STAGE' and the dressing room is labeled 'DRESSING ROOM'. The entrance and exit are labeled 'ENTRANCE & EXIT'. The lift is labeled 'LIFT'. The seating area is color-coded according to the key: red for 3-seat fixed benches (rows J to S), light red for 2-seat fixed benches (rows J to S), pink for 2-seat folding benches (rows A to H), yellow for 1-seat folding benches (rows C to H), and a wheelchair symbol for wheelchair spaces. The rows are labeled A through S, with A being the front row and S being the back row. The diagram also shows the location of the stage, dressing room, lift, and entrance/exit.
